

Question: when a price moves little after news, does that show that the news had no effect?

